BOSTON, APRIL 4.

Copy of a LETTER to the Right Honourable the Lords Commiffioners of the Treafury.

Province of the Maffachufetts-Bay, Feb. 1768.

MY LORDS,

THE houfe of repreffentatives of this his Majefty's province, beg leave to lay before your lordfhips the great difficulties to which they are reduced, by the operation of divers acts of parliament, impofing duties, to be levied on the fubjects of the American colonies, and made with the fole and expreis purpofe of raifing a revenue: And beg the favour of your candid judgment and great intereft in the national councils for their redrefs.

As their conftituents are not in any manner repreffented in the parliament, they cannot fo much wonder, that taxes and burdens are laid upon them, which they humbly apprehend, could have been made to appear, to be beyond all bounds of equity and proportion; and this conffideration they are fure would have had its due weight in the Britifh houfe of commons.

By act of parliament, your lordfhips are fenfible that the colonies are reftrained from importing commodities the growth or manufacture of Europe, faving a few articles, except from Great-Britain: By this policy, the demand of Britifh manufactures from the colonies is greatly increafed; and the manufacturers have the advantage of their own price. Hence it appears that what is gained by the fubjects in Britain is a lofs to thofe in America; for there can be no doubt, as this houfe conceive, but that if the colonifts were allowed to purchafe fuch commodities at foreign markets, they might have them at a cheaper rate; or which is the fame thing to them, the Britifh manufacturers would be neceffitated to reduce their price. Thus alfo, with regard to the many articles of their produce, which the colonies are by act of parliament reftrained from fending to foreign ports: This occafions a great plenty of American exports, and oftentimes a glut at the Britifh markets, which always diminifhes the price, and makes a lofs to the American, and an equal gain to the fubject in Britain. This regulation evidently defigned in favour of thofe of his Majefty's fubjects inhabiting in Great-Britain, this houfe is not at this time complaining of; but they beg your lordfhips conffideration, whether, in addition to thefe burdens, it is not grievous to their conftituents, to be obliged to pay duties on Britifh manufactures here; efpecially conffidering, that, as the conffumers of the manufactures, they pay a great proportion of the duties and taxes laid upon them in Britain: It is computed by a late celebrated Britifh writer, that the artificial value arifing from thefe duties is not lefs than fifty per cent. Your lordfhips will then form an eftimate of the part that is paid annually upon the importation into America, which is generally allowed to be at leaft two millions fterling——So great are the advantages arifing yearly to Great Britain from the colonies, moft of which, it is faid, were fettled, and have been maintained and defended, till within a very few years, folely at their own expence: This houfe can affirm for one province only.

But the bearing an unequal fhare of the public burdens, tho' a real grievance, is of but fmall conffideration, when compared with another, in the mentioning of which the houfe beg your lordfhips indulgence. The duties levied in America by virtue of the aforementioned acts, were impofed with the fole and expreis purpofe of raifing a revenue; and are to be applied, in the firft place, for the making a more certain and adequate provifion for the charge of the adminiftration of juftice, and fupport of civil government, in fuch colonies where it fhall be found neceffary; and the reffidue is from time to time to be difpofed of by parliament towards defraying the neceffary expences of defending, protecting, and fecuring the colonies. It is humbly fubmitted, whether his Majefty's commons in Britain, have not by thefe acts, granted the property of their fellow fubjects in America, without their conffent in parliament. Your lordfhips will allow, that it is an unalterable rule in equity, that a man fhall have the free ufe, and fole difpofal of his property. This original principle, to the laffing honour of our Britifh anceftors, was in early time, ingrafted into the Britifh conffitution, and is the greateft fecurity, as well as the brighteft ornament of a Britifh fubject. It adds to the real grandeur of the Britifh monarch, whofe happy fubjects have an unfhaken opinion of their own fafety, which is the perfection of political liberty. Such a conffitution fhall in future ages be admired, when the names of tyrants and their veffels fhall be all be forgot. This conffitution, my lords, is fixed: It is from thence that all power in the ftate derives its authority: Therefore no power can exceed the bounds of it without deffroying its own foundation. It is conceived, that even the remoteft and inconffiderable fubject, hath an equitable claim to the benefit of the fundamental rules of the conffitution; for all Britifh fubjects are alike free. The bleffings of the Britifh conffitution will forever keep the fubjects in this province united to the mother ftate, as long as the fentiments of liberty are preferved: But what liberty can remain to them, when their property, the fruit of their ffkill and induffry, and the prop of all their future hopes in life, may be taken from them at the difcretion of others? They can fay without vanity, and they may be allowed to boaft, that from the days of their anceftors, no fubjects have given more fignal proofs of zeal for the fervice and honour of their fovereign, and affection for the parent country. It has ffill of late been the invariable ufage for his Majefty's requiffions to be laid before their own repreffentatives; and their aid has not been demanded, but the free and voluntary gift of all: The change is in its nature delicate and important; your lordfhips will judge whether there be any neceffity or preffing reafons for it: The houfe are not inffenfible that the colonies have their enemies, who may have repreffented them to his Majefty's miniffers and the parliament, as feditious, diffoyal, and difpofed to fet up an independency on Great-Britain: But they rely upon the candour of your lordfhips judgment. They can affirm, that with regard to this province and, they prefume, all the colonies, the charge is injurious and unjuft. The fuperintending authority of his Majefty's high court of parliament, the fupreme legiflative over the whole empire, is as clearly admitted here as in Britain; fo far as is conffiffent with the fundamental rules of the conffitution; and it is prefumed it is not further admiffible there.

The houfe are humbly of opinion, that a repreffentation of their conffituents, in that high court, by reafon of local circumffances, will, for ever be impracticable. And that his Majefty's royal predeceffors were graciously pleafed, by charter,

...ally fent at a ſeaſon ...re might enjoy the ... further, that the nation hath ever given full proof of their ſubmiſſion, tho' remote, and conceded to acts of their ſubordinate legiſlation. Their abetter is a check upon them, and effectually ſecures their dependence on Great-Britain; for no acts can be in force, 'till the King's Governor has given his aſſent; and all laws that are made, are laid before his Majeſty, who at any time during three years after they are made, may diſannul them at his royal pleaſure: Under this check, the houſe humbly conceive, a repreſentation in parliament cannot be neceſſary for the nation, and for many reaſons it cannot be eligible to them: All they deſire is, to be placed on their original ſtanding; that they may ſtill be happy in the enjoyment of their invaluable privileges, and the nation may ſtill reap the advantage of their growth and proſperity.

The houſe intreat your lordſhips patience one moment longer, while they juſt mention the danger they apprehend to their liberties, if the crown, in addition to its uncontroverted right of appointing a governor, ſhould alſo appoint him a ſtipend at the expence of the people, and without their conſent. And alſo, whether, as the judges and other civil officers of the province do not hold commiſſions during good behaviour, there is not a probability, that arbitrary rule may in ſome time take effect, to the ſubverſion of the principles of equity and juſtice, and the ruin of liberty and virtue.

It is humbly hoped, that your lordſhips will conceive a favourable opinion of the people of the province; and that you will patroniſe their liberties, ſo far as in your great wiſdom and candour you ſhall judge to be right.

Signed by the SPEAKER.

Foreign Intelligence.

Warſaw, February 10.

IT is ſaid that the Diet hath ſeveral points to diſcuſs relative to religion. It is even pretended that it will not be inſiſted upon for the future, that the King, who is elected in a free aſſembly, ſhould be of the Roman Catholic religion. The return of a courier ſent to a certain power will clear up this report.

We are aſſured that the ſuppreſſion of the juriſdiction of the Nunciature hath been approved and adopted, and that in conſequence thereof, there will be formed a ſynod or eccleſiaſtical council, of which the primate is to be preſident. This tribunal will decide, as the dernier reſort, all ſuch eccleſiaſtical cauſes as have hitherto been carried to the court of Rome, or laid before the Nuncio from that court, reſiding here. The tax on the Pope's bulls will be aboliſhed or at leaſt reduced, and a regulation made reſpecting tithes. An ambaſſador is to be ſent to the court of Rome, to ſolicit an approbation of the general regulation which ſhall be agreed on, relative to all the above objects.

Coblentz, Feb. 12. We have received advice that Prince Clement of Saxony, was yeſterday unanimouſly elected archbiſhop of Triers.

Minorca, Feb. 13. By the treaty of peace with Corſica, it is ſaid, that the Genoeſe are to acknowledge that iſland to be free and independent; that the Corſicans are to evacuate Caprara in favour of the Genoeſe; and that the port of Bonifaccio is to be in poſſeſſion of the Corſicans, on condition of their making an annual payment to Genoa of 30,000 livres.

Warſaw, Feb. 15. Every thing tranſacting here, extremely embarraſſes the Pope's Nuncio, who, ever ſince the 31ſt of laſt month, when he delivered ſome briefs and a manifeſto, as formerly mentioned, has not quitted his apartment. As it has been poſitively reſolved to transfer to the prince primate the functions formerly attached to the Apoſtolic Nunciature, which is about to be extinguiſhed here, the court of Rome runs a riſk of loſing a great part of its revenues in Poland.

Paris, Feb. 19. Letters from Naples advife, that ſince the expulſion of the Jeſuits, a ſtrict ſearch has been made by the King's orders, in the houſes of ſuch perſons as favoured the Jeſuits, when a great quantity of plate and jewels were found concealed therein. In a village near the convent of Sora, among other riches a box was found filled with pearls and diamonds; the whole has been ſequeſtered to the crown.

Triers, Feb. 20. Yeſterday the new Archbiſhop made his entry, and was preſented by the magiſtrates with the keys of the city gates. This day his royal highneſs was enthroned in the cathedral.

Iſle of Caprara, Jan. 22. Since this iſland has been under the dominion of General Paoli, many ancient coins have been found under ground, both gold and ſilver, ſtruck in the reign of the Emperor Tiberius.

Stockholm, Feb. 15. Bankruptcies become daily more frequent in this kingdom. There has juſt happened ſuch an one as we never before had an example of, viz. that of an entire city (Nicarleby in Finland) the magiſtrates of which, and all the inhabitants, except a ſingle merchant, named Regratier, have declared themſelves inſolvent to the parliament of Abo. Three-fourths of the inhabitants of the town of Vaſa are alſo reduced to the ſame extremity.

LONDON, February 25.

LETTERS from Warſaw, dated February 3, ſay, "The diet was opened the day before yeſterday, but was immediately prorogued again again for three weeks. It is aſſured that this is owing to ſeveral incidents which rather tended to make that meeting tumultuous than harmonious: among other things are the manifeſto of the marſhal of the confederacy of Grodno, which is ſaid to be very virulent againſt prince Repnin; the Brevet from the Pope to the prince primate; and more than all the reſt, the Brevet addreſſed by the Pope to the King; which ſets forth that his Majeſty ought ſooner to abdicate the crown, than ſubſcribe any thing to the detriment of the Roman-Catholic religion. The biſhops have likewiſe received a Brevet of the ſame nature; and the apoſtolic nuncio has even delivered a manifeſto to the great chancellor, that all who ſubſcribe to any articles of the above mentioned tendency ſhall be excommunicated. However, in order to prevent any tumults, a conſiderable body of Ruſſian troops are advancing towards this city, and will be poſted in the ſuburbs. Some new duties have alſo been laid on beer, wine, and brandy, to which, and all others, it is ſaid, the clergy are determined not to contribute."

We are credibly informed that all the men of war now fitting out for different ſtations in America, and the Weſt Indies, are ordered to carry out their uſual commpliments of ſeamen and mariners.

Dublin, February 16. The following is the addreſs of our houſe of commons to his Majeſty, on occaſion of the return of the octennial bill.

"Moſt gracious Sovereign,

"We your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal ſubjects, the commons of Ireland, in parliament aſſembled, beſeech your Majeſty to accept our unfeigned and grateful acknowledgments, for the confidence which your Majeſty has ſo ſignally manifeſted to your ſubjects of this kingdom, in returning the bill for limiting the duration of parliaments; which we conſider not only as a gracious mark of paternal benevolence, but as the wiſe reſult of paternal deliberation."

London, March 2. Letters from Peterſburgh, dated Jan. 28, ſay, "We learn from Moſcow, that when Mr. Pferſky, reſident of the King of Poland, preſented to her Imperial Majeſty lately a memorial ſoliciting the enlargement of the four priſoners of ſtate, the Empreſs replied, "That as ſhe had not cauſed them to be arreſted but upon ſolid repreſentations, and only for the welfare of the republic, the very ſame reaſons obliged her to detain them; whereby there will be more ſafety to the diet, and greater hope of re-eſtabliſhing the peace of the nation; inſtead of which, if ſhe ſhould conſent to ſet them at liberty, it would rather be abandoning the ſtate to them, than reſtoring them to it."

They write from Warſaw, that as ſoon as the reſolutions reſolved on by the grand commiſſion have been ratified by the Diet, the Sieur Poninſki (ſecretary to the ſaid commiſſion) will be ſent to Rome, in quality of miniſter plenipotentiary from the King and republic of Poland, to inform the Pope of their motives for re-eſtabliſhing the Diſſidents in their ancient rights, and to deſire his Holineſs to withdraw his Nuncio, and not to ſend any more to Poland, but to inveſt the Prince Primate, with the character of Hereditary Legate.

An extraordinary council has been called at Madrid, to conſider of the following points, which are to be propoſed in particular to the biſhops. 1. The cauſe of expelling the jeſuits, 2. How their effects are to be applied. 3. The cenſure of their books. 4. A reform of the ſecular and regular clergy. 5. A reform of the eccleſiaſtical courts. 6. The provincial and diocеſan councils. 7. The erection of places of education in every dioceſe. 8. A reform of the univerſities, and a new method of teaching the ſciences. 9. The infringements on the royal authority. 10. Appeals to the nunciature. 11. A prohibition of appealing to Rome, except in extraordinary caſes. 12. A prohibition of ordination by inheritance. 13. Contracts injuring the royal revenue. 14. A reſtriction of eccleſiaſtical privileges. 15. The court of inquiſition, and briefs for raiſing money. And, laſtly, 16. Diſpenſations for marrying, or other purpoſes.

March 4. Mr. Deviſme, late ſecretary to the embaſſy, and charged with his Majeſty's affairs in Spain, is appointed ſecretary to the Embaſſy to the Empreſs of Ruſſia.

A letter from Warſaw, dated the 6th ult. ſays, "The number of Senators and Nuncios returned hither, to give their ſuffrages in the diet, is not near ſo conſiderable as it was at the opening of that aſſembly about four months ago; from whence it is inferred, that amongſt the abſentees there are ſome who are diſſatisfied with the arrangements taken by the grand commiſſion, and may repent of having taken part in the general confederacy. If this ſhould really be the caſe, it may be productive of unhappy effects, and the more, as we are aſſured that the Liberum veto has been renewed and eſtabliſhed as one of the fundamental laws."

George Jackſon, Eſq; who ſucceeds the late Mr. Charles Fearne, as deputy-ſecretary of the admiralty, is appointed by their lordſhips judge advocate.

This morning the Daniſh ambaſſador had a conference with one of his Majeſty's ſecretaries of ſtate, on the ſubject of an expreſs received yeſterday from Copenhagen.

It is thought, by ſome, the parliament will meet early in the month of May next, for the diſpatch of buſineſs, and continue ſitting for near three months before any prorogation takes place.

It is the opinion of the Hibernian connoiſeurs in general, that the enſuing general election in Ireland, will cauſe upwards of 300,000l. to be circulated among electors and poor of that kingdom next ſummer.

March 7. A letter from Parma ſays, "The Pope has threatened to [illegible] and excommunicate the ſtates of our Sovereign; his [illegible] for this ſtep, are, a pretended breach of the eccleſiaſtical privileges, for that about two years ago, the Duke of Parma deprived the clergy, within his dominions, of the exorbitant privileges they enjoyed, their eſtates being exempt from all taxes, not only during their poſſeſſing them, but when they were bought, in caſe they thought fit to ſell them. This exceſſive exemption had, in a manner, reduced the revenues of the ſtate to nothing. After many fruitleſs applications to the court of Rome, that it would pleaſe to conſent to a diminution of thoſe privileges, the government thought fit, by its ſovereign authority, to ſuppreſs them. The Pope, diſſatisfied with this act, made public declaration, that purſuant to the bulls publiſhed by his predeceſſors, the clergy are not ſubject to any civil power or juriſdiction whatever, and that therefore he, the Pope, looks upon the duke of Parma, together with all his miniſters, and all others who have aſſiſted, or joined in the execution of his orders againſt the Eccleſiaſtics, to be juſtly ſubject to the excommunicated."

They write from Warſaw, that the marſhal of the confederacy of Grodno is retired to Rome, where he has taken the habit of a Monk, and is actually preaching to the people on the affairs of Poland, exhorting them to undertake a Croiſade in defence of the Catholic religion in that kingdom.

We hear the colony agents have orders from their conſtituents, to uſe their utmoſt endeavours to obtain an act of parliament for the encouragement of the linen manufacture in North-America, and for making all kinds of naval ſtores, ſuch as anchors, cables, cordage, iron work, ſails, maſts, &c.

Laſt Thurſday the affairs relative to the ordnance and naval ſtores, taken by his Majeſty's ſhips and troops at Pondicherry, and which were taken poſſeſſion of by agents for the Eaſt-India company, was heard before the lords of the council at the Cockpit, Whitehall; but the final determination thereof is put off.

Capt. Antrobus is appointed to the command of his Majeſty's frigate Jaſon, and not Capt. Elphinſtone, as mentioned in the papers ſome time ſince; that gentleman being appointed a few days ago, to the command of the Pearl frigate, in the room of Capt. Drummond, who has quitted.

The French have begun to diet their ſailors exactly after the ſame manner as our fleet.

A country dance of a new nature called a Cotillon, and which admits but of eight perſons, has lately been introduced in the polite world from France, and is now in great eſteem among our people of quality.

The celebrated Dr. Lucas certainly ſtands for the city of Dublin, notwithſtanding all the reports which have been inſerted to the contrary in the papers of this kingdom.

By a gentleman from Ayleſbury we are informed, that as ſoon as the news arrived there of Mr. Wilkes having declared himſelf a candidate for the city of London, the bells were immediately ſet to ringing, and joy appeared in the countenance of every one, the pooreſt peaſant contributing his mite towards the evening's regale, and health and ſucceſs was drank to Mr. Wilkes in the election for the city of London, by the electors of that borough.

By nothing tranſpiring from the numberleſs expreſſes lately arrived from America, ſome people conjecture diſcontent in that quarter: good news equally as ill, flying apace, if any part of it is known.

'Tis ſuppoſed that 70,000 fowls upon an average, to ſay nothing of other articles, are now daily conſumed in the city of London.

We hear that the right honourable Lady, lately divorced and, ſtill more, lately married, had 20,000l. generouſly added to her fortune by the noble duke, her ladyſhip's brother.

They write from Berlin, that the King of Pruſſia is indefatigable in putting his troops on the beſt footing; and that great preparations are making againſt the very grand review which is ſoon to take place.

It is thought that the number of legal pollers for the city of London is about 8000.

March 9. Letters from Madrid adviſe, that the Jeſuits were carried off from Peru with the ſame precautions as thoſe of the ſame order were from the other ſtates of his Catholick majeſty; and that there were found in their College at Quito ſome intereſting papers concerning the revolt which happened at Madrid on Palm Sunday.

The number of children born laſt year in Denmark amounted to 26539, and the number of deaths was 23807. In Norway 23444 children were born, and only 18136 perſons died. Amongſt 2541, who died laſt year in the dioceſe of Bergen, there were 25 between 90 and 100, one of 104, one of 106, and one of 107 years of age.

In the year 1761, the King went to the houſe of Peers on Thurſday the 19th of March, to give the royal aſſent to ſundry bills as were ready, and made a moſt gracious ſpeech; after which the lord Chancellor prorogued both houſes. On the Saturday following (March 21) the parliament was diſſolved by proclamation, and writs were iſſued that day for calling a new parliament. The members for moſt boroughs were choſen within eight days after iſſuing the writs, which were returnable on the 29th of May following.

LIST of HORSES entered at GUILDHALL, to run for the FOUR CITY PLATES.

1. JOHN BULL's Horſe, HEART OF OAK. He was got by Juniper out of Tipſy's Dam. The horſe is a very fine horſe, and well known on the turf; he has won one or two plates, but is very ſhy of a Poſt, and notwithſtanding the Jockies have done all they could to break him of this trick, they have never been able to ſucceed. Odds four to one on him againſt the field.

2. Mr. GRENVILLE's young Horſe STAMP. This horſe came in ſecond laſt year; but it has ſince run againſt a poſt, and it is believed is ſo much hurt his ſpeed by this accident, that if he ſaves his diſtance it will be as much as he will be able to do.

3. Lord ROCKINGHAM's MERCATOR. This horſe, tho' aged, is a maiden one, having never ſtarted for a plate; he bears training exceeding well, and comes through his exerciſe much to the ſatisfaction of thoſe who have ſeen him. He was got by the ſame horſe Commerce, well known for having won a great number of plates; but, by unſkilful Jockies, is now ſcarce able to ſtand on his legs. This horſe is in high favour with the gentlemen of the turf; odds on him two to one againſt Prerogative. Three to one againſt Pickle, five to one againſt Shaver, and even money that he wins.

4. Lord CHATHAM's brown Horſe PREROGATIVE, got by a grandſon of Nol's Old Trumpeter, his dam by Changeling; he was bred in Jamaica, where he was uſed as a ſtallion to the African fillies; upon his arrival here he was taken into training; has won a plate or two, but not without much jockeyſhip; he is naturally very vicious, and much addicted to the reſt; but his Lordſhip's rough riders, by exerciſe and ſweating, have brought him to be gentle and tractable; he has been lately uſed as a Tryal Horſe and ſo hard worked, that he is much hurt in his wind. It is imagined he will be beat eaſy, after which he will be of no uſe but as a Teazer. Odds ſix to one againſt his winning.

5. Lord BUTE's grey horſe PICKLE, got by Girkin, his dam by Muſhroom; this horſe won with great difficulty one of the laſt plates, and has been ſtraying about the King's Foreſts and nobody thought him worth catching, at laſt one of his Lordſhip's grooms picked him up, and he has been rid by the ſervants ever ſince, makes an excellent portmanteau horſe, and is ſo gentle that a child may ride him even in moſt dirty roads, he is ſtill in ſome favour among the ſtable boys, between whom ſeveral bets of ſtrong beer are depending, but the gentlemen of the turf offer ſix to one againſt his winning, but nobody think it proper to take it.

6. Lord Holland's old horſe, SHAVER, got by Craft, his dam. This horſe won a plate at Ludgerſhall, but his lordſhip having found ways and means to purchaſe him, and his grooms having rode him very hard, it is believed he is foundered, and the odds are five to one that he will be diſtanced.

It is ſaid the famous Horſe LIBERTY, formerly belonging to Ld. Chatham who has ſince ſold him, will enter at the poſt; if ſo, and he has a ſkilful rider, 'tis imagined will come in firſt. but he is very apt to run out of the courſe, and is ſo headſtrong, that it is almoſt impoſſible to guide him.

March 10. We hear that 200l. were lately given in a certain borough in the weſt of England, for 12 pairs of breeches, and that 150 guineas were diſdainfully refuſed for a groaning cheeſe.

March 11. It is reported that a celebrated perſon has lately written a letter to a great perſonage; and that in conſequence thereof, a free pardon either has been, or will be, very ſoon made out.

Yeſterday John Wilkes, Eſq; was admitted to the freedom of this city, in the Joiners Company, previous to his declaring himſelf one of the canditates for the city of London, at the enſuing election.

March 15. A wager of 100 guineas was laid yeſterday at a noted coffee houſe near the Exchange, that John Wilkes, Eſq; would be elected for the city of London, and the ſame ſum that he would have twenty votes more than any other candidate.

On Monday laſt Denys Rolle, Eſq; member of parliament for Barnſtaple in Devonſhire, who is lately arrived from Eaſt-Florida, had the honour to kiſs his Majeſty's hand, and was moſt graciouſly received.

It is reported that all those who shall take small sums of money, to give certain greater sums, in case Mr. Wilkes is chosen member for the city, are liable to be disfranchised.

March 16. It is said that an Iron manufactory is preparing to be established at Chester, by some of the principal merchants there.

The following aldermen were present at the court held yesterday at Guildhall, viz. the right hon. the Lord Mayor, Sir Robt. Ladbroke, Mr. Alderman Alsop, Sir Thomas Rawlinson, Sir Ch. Asgill, Sir Rich. Glyn, Bart. Mr. Alderman Beckford, Sir William Stephenson, Sir Robert Kite, Sir Henry Banks, Mr. Alderman Turner, Mr. Alderman Trecothick, Mr. Alderman Hallifax, Mr. Alderman Shakespear, and the two Sheriffs. The Master and Wardens of the Joiners Company attended, and presented Mr. Wilkes's freedom of their Company, which was allowed.

Yesterday a prodigious number of people assembled in Guildhall, in order to see Mr. Wilkes pass through to take up his freedom; but though every thing was ready for that purpose he did not come to the hall. It is now said, he is to be admitted to the freedom of the city this morning, previous to his appearing with the rest of the candidates on the hustings.

We are informed that some new regulations in the court of Chancery will shortly take place.

Dublin, March 5. Leave is given to bring in heads of a bill to repeal an act, intitled an act, that the chancellor and treasurer, judges of the King's bench and common pleas, the chief and second baron of the exchequer, the clerk and master of the rolls, all Officers, and accomptants, shall have their offices only at the King's will and pleasure.

Leave is given to bring in heads of a bill, for preventing Inconveniences that may arise from the privilege of parliament, by enabling all persons to proceed, both at law and equity, at all times, against the real and personal estate of persons entitled to the privilege of parliament, except during the actual sitting of parliament.

London, March 17. Yesterday at Guildhall, before the nomination of candidates, Mr. Trecothick addressed the Livery in the following manner:

"Gentlemen of the Livery, my Fellow Citizens,

"UPON this first attempt to address so numerous and so respectable a body, I stand in need of all that candour and indulgence for which this place hath ever been so laudably remarkable.

"For a long course of years I have been conversant in the commerce of Great-Britain. I can say with truth that the export of its manufactures in my branch of trade, hath during my time, been considerably encreasing; but I must add with concern, that in many other branches it hath greatly declined; hence arises that degree of distress, which so evidently afflicts many populous parts of this kingdom: To revive, to extend manufactures, to remove their burthens and discouragements, should be the peculiar study of every British senator; it shall be mine, if I am honoured with your choice. I wish my abilities were equal to my inclinations; villigance at least, and assiduity in this precinct, shall not be wanting on my part.

"Gentlemen, I am untried in the important station of representing a free people in parliament; thus far, therefore, will I profess, and no farther: I know the invaluable blessing of our happy constitution and laws; I know that the utmost exertion of zeal is due to the support of liberty on every occasion, against every arbitrary party: The man, who under this conviction, solicits and obtains the highest of trusts, and afterwards betrays it, would merit everlasting infamy. It shall, gentlemen, be my earnest endeavour, in the whole course of my conduct, to acquit myself to my own conscience; Care, in so doing, to obtain and to preserve your approbation and favour."

From Madrid we learn, that the Spanish ministry are going to exhibit a specimen of frugality, by reducing a number of officers who were a burden to the state, and applying large sums, which went under the name of perquisites in those offices, to the increase of their marine forces.

We hear that two of the men of war now fitting out for sea at Plymouth, are to take on board a quantity of ordnance stores, and two companies of foot for the settlement at Placentia, Newfoundland.

Cork, March 7. Yesterday his Majesty's ship Superb, of 74 guns, Capt. Falkner, arrived at Cove, to take troops to Gibraltar, and we hear the 67th regiment will embark in her.

An ANECDOTE.

HIS late Majesty, King George the Second, being once on a passage to Hanover, and it being very stormy, and the wind encreasing, one of the chaplains asked a sailor how the weather was? —"Get below, Doctor, get below, (replied the fellow); —what the devil business have you here?"—"but, pray tell me, friend, (said the parson) is there any likelihood of our being lost?"——"Why, by G—d, (said the fellow) if the wind don't slacken, and that presently, we are very like to be in Heaven to-night."——"God Almighty forbid!—God Almighty forbid!" answered the Doctor.——That gentleman is now a Bishop.

London, March 19. It is said that it was debated in council this week, whether the capias utlegatum should be executed on Mr. Wilkes; but carried in the negative.

It is said the loss occasioned by idleness to the metropolis, during a week of a general election, is estimated at 100,000 l.

March 21. It is said that should Mr. Wilkes fail of being elected a member of the British senate, he intends to retire to to Boston in New England.

On Friday died the reverend Mr. Sterne, author of Tristram Shandy, some volumes of sermons, and a Sentimental journey. —"Alas poor Yorick! I knew him well, a fellow of infinite jest, most excellent fancy."

March 22. Yesterday the Lord Chancellor delivered the privy-seal to the Earl of Chatham, at Hayes, the temporary commission being expired.

We hear from Geneva, that the celebrated M. Voltaire, lies dangerously ill at his seat at Ferney, near that city.

March 24. At the final close of the poll at Guildhall yesterday afternoon, the numbers stood as follows:

The Lord Mayor,	3729
Sir Robert Ladbroke,	3678
Mr. Alderman Beckford,	3402
Mr. Alderman Trecothick,	2957
Sir Richard Glyn,	2823
John Paterson, Esq;	1769
John Wilkes, Esq;	1247

The common cryer proclaimed the poll ended, and summoned a common hall to be holden to-morrow morning, at nine o'clock, for the sheriffs to make their declaration.

Mr. Wilkes's Address to the Livery of London, on the 23d of March, 1768.

"Gentlemen and Fellow Citizens,

"THE poll being now finished, I return my sincerest thanks to those disinterested and independent friends, who have so generously and steadily stood forth in my favour. The want of success, out of your power to command, has not in the least abated my zeal for your service: you cannot be unacquainted with the various circumstances which have contributed to it. My friends were of opinion that I should wait the dissolution of the last slavish and venal ——— of ———, while the other candidates had been for many months soliciting your interest. Ministerial influence, [illegible] by private malice, has been exerted in the most arbitrary and unconstitutional manner, and by means of the basest chicanery and oppression.

"But, though disappointed, I am not in the least dispirited: on the contrary, I reflect with pride and gratitude, on the many instances of regard and affection I have received from the Livery of London.

"I beg leave to make my best acknowledgments to the sheriffs, who have shewn the utmost candour and impartiality during the election, accompanied with a dignity of character becoming their station in this great metropolis.

"And now gentlemen, permit me to address you as friends to liberty and freeholders of the county of Middlesex, declaring my intention of appearing as a candidate to represent you in parliament, and still hoping by your means to have the honour of being useful to you in the British senate.

"I recommend it to you in the strongest manner, to exert yourselves to preserve the peace and quiet of this great city."

The honourable Charles Price, jun. Esq; is appointed custos and chief judge of the court of common pleas for the parishes and precinct of St. Mary's and St. George, in the room of Zachary Bayly, Esq;

CHARLES-TOWN, May 23, 1768.

THIS Morning about 9 o'Clock, His Excellency the Right Hon. Lord CHARLES-GREVILLE MONTAGU, Governor and Commander in Chief, &c. of this Province, with his LADY embarked for Philadelphia, on board His Majesty's Ship FOWEY of 28 Guns, commanded by MARK ROBINSON, Esq. On going aboard, His Lordship was saluted by the Man of War; afterwards by the several Forts as she passed them; and before Noon the Ship was safe over the Bar.——The Administration of this Government now devolves upon the Honourable WILLIAM BULL, Esq; Lieutenant-Governor.

His Majesty's Sloop Martin, Capt. Thomas Heyward, sailed at the same Time for her Station at Cape Fear.

As did for LONDON, the Ship Heart-of-Oak, Capt. Gunn, with the several Passengers mentioned in our last.

The Affair at Montserrat, mentioned in the General Gazette of last Friday, was communicated to us near Five Weeks ago, and not then or since published, in this Gazette, for obvious Reasons.

"On Saturday the 21st Instant was buried, at St. George's, Dorchester, JOHN SKENE, Esq; Colonel of the Regiment of Horse, in this Province. His Funeral was attended by the Parishioners, whose weeping Eyes testified their Sorrow of Heart for the great Loss they looked upon themselves to have sustained: For he was a Magistrate of strict Integrity and Impartiality, a sincere Friend, hospitable, humane, and, according to his Abilities, charitable to the Poor. In his military Capacity, he always distinguished himself as a zealous Servant of the Public. His Vigilance often prevented Danger; his Resolution was steady, and his Courage active, making himself think light of any Difficulties he was sure to encounter, if he could thereby render Ease and Security to his fellow Provincials. All due Honours and Regard were paid to him, as a Soldier and a Mason, by the St. George's Troop of Horse, and the Fraternity of Masons in the Neighbourhood."
